Digging, digging, digging...

Long day of WORK!

Today we had a big mission: dig out Calle's cars!!! We took all the snow out of one of them and tried to make it work, so we could use the cars to bring people (YOU) here! But guess what? The battery was frozen!!! And the inside of the hood was full of snow too!

Of course we couldn't make the battery work, so we will wait to dig the other car until we can buy a new battery. Calle tried to put hot water on it to melt the ice (CRAZY), but it didn't work either. If someone feels like digging the other car, here is a picture so you can be prepared:

Calle will be very happy if someone helps him with it! So don't be shy and bring your shovel now!

After that we went to Återvinningscentral to get rid of all the garbage!

Don't forget that in Sweden you have to sort your garbage, so here is some tips to make it right:

- Plast/Plastic/Plástico
- Papper/Paper/Papel
- Metal

During the festival you will see paper bags with these names so you can separate your garbage!

If you have more suggestions on languages we can use, please tell us!

We also went to Ica to buy food for us and for you who are coming to help! We would be grateful if you bring or help us to buy cereal, milk, salad, berries and what you think would be good to have for breakfast/fika!

Remember this is a collaborative festival and we will share everything, the more you bring the more we will have to eat!
